Plot Overview

The Inciting Incident: Donovan's Accident

The story begins with Donovan Curtis, a student at Meriwether Middle School, known more for his mischievous antics than academic prowess. During an impulsive act of rebellion—trying to sabotage a school assembly—Donovan inadvertently causes chaos, leading to his suspension. In a twist of fate, his mother, desperate to avoid further trouble, mistakenly reports him as being expelled and sends him to a different school, a prestigious school for gifted students called the Academy of Scholarly Excellence.

The Transfer and the New Environment

However, Donovan's misadventure results in him being transferred not to a school for “gifted” students, but to the Academy for the Gifted and Talented (AGT), a school designed for academically exceptional students. His presence, however, quickly upends the status quo, as his unorthodox approach to problem-solving and lack of conventional intelligence contrast sharply with the academic achievements of his peers.
