What Is a Road Test Scoring Sheet?

A road test scoring sheet is a standardized form used by New York DMV examiners to evaluate a driver's performance during the practical driving exam. It documents specific driving skills and behaviors, assigning scores or marks based on whether each task is performed correctly, improperly, or not at all. The scoring sheet ensures consistency across examiners and provides a clear record of your driving abilities.

The scoring sheet covers various aspects of driving, including vehicle control, adherence to traffic laws, safety precautions, and overall driving demeanor. Examiners use this sheet to determine if the applicant demonstrates the competence necessary to operate a vehicle safely and responsibly.

Structure of the NY Road Test Scoring Sheet

The NY road test scoring sheet is typically divided into multiple sections, each focusing on critical areas of driving. These sections include:

Basic Driving Skills

- Proper use of signals
- Turning and lane changes
- Maintaining proper speed
- Observing traffic signs and signals

Intersections and Right-of-Way

Scoring Criteria and How They Affect Your Pass/Fail Outcome

The scoring system on the NY road test is designed to ensure that all drivers demonstrate essential skills. The examiner marks each item as either:

- Passed/Correct: The applicant performs the task correctly.
- Minor Error: A small mistake that does not significantly compromise safety but may need correction.
- Major Error: A critical mistake that could lead to unsafe driving, often resulting in an immediate failure.
- Failure: The task is not performed or is performed in a manner that endangers safety.

Key Points:

- The DMV requires a minimum score to pass, typically allowing for a limited number of minor errors.
- Major errors, such as running a red light or failing to yield, often lead to an automatic failure.

- Consistent safe driving throughout all sections increases the chances of passing.

Examples of Major Errors Include:

- Running a stop sign or red light
- Speeding significantly above the limit
- Disregarding traffic signals or signs
- Failing to check mirrors before changing lanes
- Not yielding to pedestrians or other vehicles when required

- Not yielding when required

2. Poor Vehicle Control

- Jerky or abrupt steering

Passing Score

While the exact minimum passing score can vary, generally:

- You must successfully complete all critical maneuvers.
- You should have no more than 15-20 minor violations.
