Content Authenticity and Security

Ensuring the integrity of digital content is crucial. Cybersecurity threats like hacking, piracy, or unauthorized distribution pose risks to both the publisher and subscribers.

Rapid technological changes require ongoing updates and maintenance of digital platforms. Compatibility issues with new devices or operating systems can hamper user experience if not managed proactively.

The rise of digital editions introduces new journalistic challenges, including the need for faster reporting, fact-checking in a fast-paced environment, and combating misinformation.

Financial Sustainability

While digital subscriptions are growing, revenue models must adapt to changing consumer behavior and advertising landscapes. Balancing free content with paid subscriptions remains a strategic challenge.

Saikia and Haines offer a unique and imaginative perspective on people's daily lives across the world as they struggle to create peace despite escalating political violence. The volume's focus on local and ordinary efforts highlights peace as a lived experience that goes beyond national and international peace efforts. In addition, the contributors' emphasis on the role of religion as a catalyst for peace moves away from the usual depiction of religion as a source of divisiveness and conflict. Spanning a range of humanities disciplines, the essays in this volume provide case studies of individuals defying authority or overcoming cultural stigmas to create peaceful relations in their communities. From investigating how ancient Jews established communal justice to exploring how black and white citizens in Ferguson, Missouri, are working to achieve racial harmony, the contributors find that people are acting independently of governments and institutions to identify everyday methods of coexisting with others. In putting these various approaches in dialogue with each other, this volume produces a theoretical intervention that shifts the study of peace away from national and international organizations and institutions toward locating successful peaceful efforts in the everyday lives of individuals.
