characteristics of the seven churches in revelation pdf: The Seven Letters to the Seven Churches in Revelation James Thomas Lee, Jr., 2014-04-15 The Apostle John had been exiled to the isle of Patmos because of his stand for Christ. So on the Lord's Day, Jesus had come to him and had commanded him to write the words that appear in the book of Revelation. Revelation 1:10-11 says, I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet, Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and, What thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven churches which are in Asia; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea. Each of the seven letters had followed a simple but consistent pattern. They had begun with a simple greeting that had stated specific characteristics of Jesus. Those characteristics had been indicated to the specific church based upon what the Lord through John would be saying to the church. Following that opening characteristic, Jesus had reported to each church an assessment of where they had been spiritually. He had then given them a prescription for fixing their problems. Lastly, He had concluded each letter by giving the people in each church a promise to those that HAVE overcome. In chapter one of this book, the author, date, and occasion for the writing of the book of Revelation will be given. What evidence exists to actually show that the Apostle John had written the book? The four most popular approaches for understanding the book of Revelation will also be discussed. Had the seven letters just been written to the seven churches or is there an expanded viewpoint about their applicability? In chapter two, a consideration of Proconsular Asia will be provided. That is the area where the seven churches had been located. So in looking at it, one can better understand when the seven churches had been established. One can also better understand the spiritual problems that had been prevalent in that region. In chapters three through nine, each of the seven letters will be carefully examined. Then chapter ten will present any final thoughts and conclusions that one might draw from this kind of study. As always the purpose of this book is to honor and glorify the Lord. He is the beginning and the end, the Alpha and the Omega. He is worthy of ALL honor and glory.

characteristics of the seven churches in revelation pdf: The Seven Churches J. Eby, 2014-09-03 Kingdom Bible Study's From the Candlestick to the Throne Book Two Covering the Revelation of Jesus Christ in The Seven Churches of Asia from the book of Revelation verses 1:11 - 3:21 In this second volume on the book of Revelation we discover the true building or house of the Lord is a living organism of the body of people in whom the Christ dwells! What is the church? You are the church. I am the church. We are all the church. So we are the seven churches! You are the seven churches! I am the seven churches! We are all the seven churches! Just as the seven spirits are but one spirit in fullness, so the seven churches are but one church in its completeness. All the characteristics of the seven churches may be found in each of us individually as well as in every local body and also in the whole universal church collectively. If the seven churches represent seven church ages as many teach, then we have a problem! You would be able to appropriate on the promises to the overcomer that belong to the church age you live in. Furthermore, if we are now in the Laodicean church age, as many assert, the only promise we can claim is that of throneship. To the church of Laodicea the Lord says, To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame and set down with my Father in his throne (Rev. 3:21). That is a beautiful promise and a wonderful calling! But if this is the Laodicean church, we would be denied the promise of eating of the tree of life given to the church in Ephesus, we would be refused the promise of not being hurt of the second death, given to the church in Smyrna; we would be prevented from eating of the hidden manna and receiving a white stone and a new name, as promised the overcomers in the church at Pergamos; we could by no means be given power over the nations to rule them with a rod of iron, for that promise was made only to the overcomers in the church in Thyratira; we would be prohibited from partaking of the promises to the overcomers in Sardis of being clothed in white raiment, and that our name will not be blotted out of the book of life; nor could we in any way become a pillar in the temple of God or have written upon us the name (nature) of our God or the name of the city of our God or the new name of God's Christ - for those promises could only be experienced by those overcomers out of the Philadelphia church age. So we see by the spirit of wisdom and revelation that all the saints of the entire church age along with you and I today are the seven churches, that the seven churches are within each of us and that God has given this revelation in a mystery that the carnal mind cannot comprehend, then we are filled with the secret wisdom that only comes to the mature in Christ. My hope in Christ is that I may lay hold upon all the overcoming promises of my Lord and find that abundant entrance into the everlasting kingdom of Jesus Christ the Son of God. I open wide my heart to receive of all the rebukes, admonitions, encouragements, and promises to all the seven churches. They are one and all ours together. I am as you are and we all are the seven golden candlesticks. As soon as I turn and behold that great truth, as soon as I know who I am, know my identity, know my birth, know who my Father is, know the kingdom to which I pertain, and know my calling; for it is as I behold the seven golden candlesticks and see them lighted within my own soul and in my spirit; then do I begin to understand what is the height and the depth and the length and the breadth of the reality of Christ in me the hope of glory!

characteristics of the seven churches in revelation pdf: The Seven Churches of Revelation John a Fewkes, 2019-12-10 Revelation may be the most difficult of the New Testament letters to clearly understand. John draws word pictures that challenge our understanding and our imaginations. Perhaps no group of passages has had a wider range of interpretive meanings. These messages thundering from the gates of heaven indicate that these letters to seven ancient churches have relevance infinitely beyond the circle of the original recipients. They are a composite word to the church universal throughout time. The letters to the seven churches are not exempt from these varied historic, preterist (everything has already happened) futurist (not much has already happened), or idealist \ spiritual interpretations and blending of these views. John writes to churches about things that must soon take place. In the churches things are already happening - churches that face trials, temptations, quarreling and social unrest in the cultures around them as their Jewish neighbors and civic authorities place pressures on the members, resulting in a loss of fidelity to Christian doctrine and the call to holy living. John presents us with the challenges of the Christian life. Answers to the question, How then should we live? among our cultural surroundings become clearer as we read through the words to the churches. John becomes the kind of friend who stands alongside us and loves us enough to tell us when we have lost our Christian walk. His advice is clear and to the point. There is no mistaking the call to remembrance and repentance. Ephesus - where is your love? Smyrna - I know your tribulation Pergamum - Satan's throne is where you live Thyatira - you have a leadership problem Sardis - You are dead Philadelphia - I will give you strength Laodicea - pride is your problem We can see something of ourselves as we hear Christ speak to His body. Will we have the ears to hear what the Spirit says the churches?
