Original Sanskrit Text

Mantra Pushpam

- > Om pūṇnamadāḥ pūṇnamidaṁ pūrṇāt pūṇnamudacyate
- > Pūṇnasya pūṇnamādyāṁ pūṇnam eva avashisyate

> Om, that is complete; this is complete; from completeness, completeness is produced.

> When completeness is taken away from completeness, completeness remains.

> Om shāntih shāntih shāntih

Detailed Breakdown of Lyrics

1. "Om pūṇnamadāḥ pūṇnamidaṁ"

- Meaning: "That (the divine or the universe) is complete; this (the universe we perceive) is also complete."

- Significance: This line emphasizes the concept of Advaita (non-duality), indicating that the entire universe is a manifestation of the divine, and nothing is lacking. It underscores the idea that the cosmos is a complete whole, even when perceived as many parts.

2. "Pūrṇāt pūṇnamudacyate"

- Meaning: "From completeness, completeness is produced."

- Significance: Here, the focus is on the cyclic nature of creation—how the universe emerges from the divine fullness and continues to sustain itself. It echoes the Vedic philosophy that creation is a manifestation of the divine's inherent fullness.

3. "Pūṇnasya pūṇnamādyāṁ"

- Meaning: "When the fullness is taken away from fullness..."

- Significance: This phrase introduces the idea of subtraction or limitation, symbolizing the illusion or maya that causes the perception of deficiency or separation.

4. "Pūṇnam eva avashisyate"

- Meaning: "...fullness remains still complete."

- Significance: Despite apparent divisions or limitations, the ultimate reality remains whole. This imparts a message of spiritual reassurance that the divine essence is unchanging and eternal.

5. "Om shāntih shāntih shāntih"

- Meaning: "Peace, peace, peace."
- Significance: A common closing in Vedic chants, invoking ultimate peace (Shanti) for the practitioner, the environment, and the universe.

The relationship between “water” and moon, agni (fire), surya (Sun), vaayu (wind) and stars is described and saluted.
