nox anne carson pdf: New International Voices in Ecocriticism Serpil Oppermann, 2014-12-18 With twelve original essays that characterize truly international ecocriticisms, New International Voices in Ecocriticism presents a compendium of ecocritical approaches, including ecocritical theory, ecopoetics, ecocritical analyses of literary, cultural, and musical texts (especially those not commonly studied in mainstream ecocriticism), and new critical vistas on human-nonhuman relations, postcolonial subjects, material selves, gender, and queer ecologies. It develops new perspectives on literature, culture, and the environment. The essays, written by contributors from the United States, Canada, Germany, Turkey, Spain, China, India, and South Africa, cover novels, drama, autobiography, music, and poetry, mixing traditional and popular forms. Popular culture and the production and circulation of cultural imaginaries feature prominently in this volume—how people view their world and the manner in which they share their perspectives, including the way these perspectives challenge each other globally and locally. In this sense the book also probes borders, border transgression, and border permeability. By offering diverse ecocritical approaches, the essays affirm the significance and necessity of international perspectives in environmental humanities, and thus offer unique responses to environmental problems and that, in some sense, affect many beginning and established scholars.

nox anne carson pdf: Autofiction and Cultural Memory Hywel Dix, 2022-12-22 Autofiction and Cultural Memory breaks new ground in autofiction research by showing how it gives postcolonial writers a means of bearing witness to past cultural or political struggles, and hence of contributing to new forms of cultural memory. Most discussion of autofiction has treated it as an individualistic form, dealing with the personal growth of its authors. In doing so, it privileges narratives of private development over those of social commitment and accords with Western concepts of ownership and authorship. By contrast, Hywel Dix shows how a variety of writers outside the Western world have used the techniques of autofiction in a different way, placing themselves on the side lines of their own stories to show solidarity with struggles against imperialism and tyranny. Drawing on examples from Algeria, Ethiopia, the Caribbean, the Americas, India and Turkey, Dix presents autofiction as a form which combines the life stories of authors with the collective struggles of their societies to restore to view historical injustices that have been marginalised and forgotten. By contributing to new forms of cultural memory, autofiction raises important questions about what we choose to remember and what we value in the present. This book will be of interest to anyone working in postcolonial studies, world literature, trauma studies, autobiography, life writing or social justice.

An orientation to a form that is critical and creative, practical and accessible, Heidi Czerwiec centers the lyric essay on the lyre, on lyric mode, focusing on the resonances of sound, silence and image at the level of language. With topics including sound effects, imagery development, lateral movement, white space, fragmentation, using poetic craft and forms, and pedagogy, this book connects the dots between lyric theory and practice, offering the beginnings of a critical framework for a form that has been vastly undertheorized until now. An essential guide to this exciting and popular hybrid form, Crafting the Lyric Essay will invigorate the study and writing of creative non-fiction.

It examines how the use of and attitude toward the book form have changed in light of the digital transformation of American media culture. Situated at the crossroads of American studies, literary studies, book studies, and media studies, these essays show that a sustained focus on the medial and material formats of literary communication significantly expands our accustomed ways of doing cultural studies. Addressing the changing roles of authors, publishers, and readers while covering multiple bookish formats such as artists' books, bestselling novels, experimental fiction, and zines, this interdisciplinary volume introduces readers to current transatlantic conversations on the history and future of the printed book.

nox anne carson pdf: Verbal-Visual Configurations in Postcolonial Literature Birgit Neumann, Gabriele Rippl, 2020-04-23 Examining a range of contemporary Anglophone texts, this book opens up postcolonial and transcultural studies for discussions of visibility and vision. It argues that the preoccupation with visual practices in Anglophone literatures addresses the power of images, vision and visual aesthetics to regulate cultural visibility and modes of identification in an unevenly structured world. The representation of visual practices in the imaginative realm of fiction opens up a zone in which established orders of the sayable and visible may be revised and transformed. In 12 chapters, the book examines narrative fiction by writers such as Michael Ondaatje, Derek Walcott, Salman Rushdie, David Dabydeen and NoViolet Bulawayo, who employ word-image relations to explore the historically fraught links between visual practices and the experience of modernity in a transcultural context. Against this conceptual background, the examination of verbal-visual relations will illustrate how Anglophone fiction models alternative modes of re-presentation that reflect critically on hegemonic visual regimes and reach out for new, more pluralized forms of exchange.

nox anne carson pdf: Book Presence in a Digital Age Kiene Brillenburg Wurth, Kári Driscoll, Jessica Pressman, 2018-06-28 Contrary to the apocalyptic pronouncements of paper media's imminent demise in the digital age, there has been a veritable surge of creative reimaginings of books as bearers of the literary. From typographic experiments (Mark Z. Danielewski's House of Leaves, Steven Hall's The Raw Shark Texts) to accordion books (Anne Carson's Nox), from cut ups (Jonathan Safran Foer's Tree of Codes) to collages (Graham Rawle's Woman's World), from erasures (Mary Ruefle's A Little White Shadow) to mixups (Simon Morris's The Interpretations of Dreams), print literature has gone through anything but a slow, inevitable death. In fact, it has re-invented itself materially. Starting from this idea of media plurality, Book Presence in a Digital Age explores the resilience of print literatures, book art, and zines in the late age of print from a contemporary perspective, while incorporating longer-term views on media archeology and media change. Even as it focuses on the materiality of books and literary writing in the present, Book Presence also takes into consideration earlier 20th-century moments of media transition, developing the concepts of presence and materiality as analytical tools to perform literary criticism in a digital age. Bringing together leading scholars, artists, and publishers, Book Presence in a Digital Age offers a variety of perspectives on the past, present, and future of the book as medium, the complex relationship of materiality to virtuality, and of the analog to the digital.

nox anne carson pdf: Groundglass Kathryn Savage, 2022-08-02 "Could there be something humbling and revolutionary in understanding myself as a site of contamination?" Groundglass takes shape atop a polluted aquifer in Minnesota, beside trains that haul fracked crude oil, as Kathryn Savage confronts the transgressions of U.S. Superfund sites and brownfields against land, groundwater, neighborhoods, and people. Drawing on her own experiences growing up on the fence lines of industry and the parallel realities of raising a young son while grieving a father dying of a cancer with known environmental risk factors, Savage traces concentric rings of connection—between our bodies, one another, our communities, and our ecosystem. She explores the porous boundary between self and environment, and the ambiguous yet growing body of evidence linking toxins to disease. Equal parts mourning poem and manifesto for environmental justice, Groundglass reminds us that no living thing exists on its own.

nox anne carson pdf: Mi nombre es nosotros Amanda Gorman, 2022-06-16 El primer poemario de Amanda Gorman, la voz que encarna la esperanza del cambio social: aclamado por la crítica y número uno en las listas de más vendidos de The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal y USA Today. «Un himno inspirador para la generación que viene: un debut poético impresionante». Kirkus Reviews Edición bilingüe Con la lectura de su poema «La colina que ascendemos» en la ceremonia de investidura del presidente Biden, la joven Amanda Gorman ofreció a un mundo herido un nuevo lenguaje de esperanza. En Mi nombre es nosotros, la autora explora la memoria, el dolor y la identidad, y parte de la reciente experiencia colectiva de la pandemia para tratar de arrojar luz sobre el futuro. Sus versos nos hablan de marginalidad, crisis climática, justicia social, desigualdad y racismo, pero también del poder del cambio, que está al alcance de todos nosotros. Con su primer poemario, Gorman se revela como la voz fresca, vigorosa e inspiradora de la resistencia moral que inaugura una nueva era en la poesía y en la sociedad. La crítica ha dicho: «Un grito de auxilio, un campanazo para sacudirnos el sopor ante la violencia contra el diferente y ante la incomunicación entre seres aislados es el contenido que oculta este envoltorio: el nuevo libro de Amanda Gorman». Berna González Harbour, Babelia «Muy fresca, muy pop, en el sentido de que ayuda a mezclar dos mundos, el de la lírica y el del activismo. [...] Autoras como Amanda Gorman actúan en una esfera que va más allá de lo literario, y que se junta con la vida política, con el compromiso con causas sociales y con el mensaje social». Luna Miguel «Recoge el testigo de antecesoras como Maya Angelou o Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie». Carmen López, elDiario «A través de su poesía trata de hacer que sus preocupaciones sobre racismo, marginalidad, sostenibilidad y desigualdad resuenen en un público amplísimo y hace una llamada al compromiso». Antoinette Torres «Gorman arroja una luz brillante sobre el futuro». Claudia Saiz, Elle «Gracias, Amanda Gorman, por abrir la puerta de esta manera tan histórica». Elvira Sastre «Con una poesía tan intensa y elegante como su abrigo amarillo, Gorman [...] nos invita a avanzar todos juntos». Kevin Young, The New Yorker «Una sinfonía de esperanza y solidaridad. Un poemario poderoso». Kit Fan, The Guardian «Un debut sobrecogedor. [...] El compromiso y el espíritu activista de Gorman brillan en cada página». Publishers Weekly «Un poemario muy oportuno». Lucy Feldman, Time «Estos poemas destilan ira, confusión y tristeza, pero Gorman nos demuestra el honor que supone ser testigo de la historia y sobrevivir a ella. [...] Su lectura resulta muy reconfortante». Joshunda Sanders, The Oprah Daily «Precisamos un nuevo lenguaje de esperanza. Amanda Gorman lo está creando». Hillary Clinton «Esta poeta afroamericana [...] ha golpeado muchos hogares como un ciclón erigiéndose en una de las voces de la poesía más refrescante». El Confidencial «Encarna un futuro que suena con latido, un faro para los jóvenes achicados por la precariedad y la pandemia que acorta sus pasos». Joana Bonet, El País «Una estrella de la literatura y un símbolo de rebeldía». Luis Alemany, El Mundo
