don t sweat the small stuff pdf: Connections 2 Frank Chodl, 2020-06-16 One thing I have noticed throughout my life as a psychic medium and teacher is that these roles, as well as that of healer, often overlap. As a medium, I work to facilitate the transitioning of those who have passed as well as easing the pain and confusion of those left behind. I help to heal both sides while teaching my clients about the processes that are taking place. When you look more deeply into the various modalities and methods of the psychics, healers, teachers, you may begin to see many aspects of all three within yourselves. When I help someone, who is stuck in between this plane and the beyond, I am not acting as an exorcist but rather as a transitionist. I am not casting them out. I am giving them the assistance they need in order to open the path to finally move on. Our task is not to release all those souls who have become stuck here single handedly. It is to send out the message to everyone on both sides to join together in bringing the healing and release that those souls so desperately need. Try to imagine the intense energy of two millennia of trapped souls simultaneously rejoining with the universe. Building on the lessons learned in my last book, Connections: A Journey to Understanding, in, Connections 2: The Gathering, I offer guidance to help us all answer questions including: • What is our greater purpose in this life? • What are our true abilities? • Who and where are our tribes? and moves us forward to prepare us for our greatest event yet, The Gathering.

don t sweat the small stuff pdf: Graduate Attributes in Higher Education Carey Normand, Lorraine Anderson, 2017-03-31 Graduate Attributes in Higher Education illuminates the value of graduate attributes for students, graduates and lecturers in higher education. A coherent, intelligent, subtle and important enhancement to the field, this text guides readers through a theoretical and historical analysis of graduate attributes, using interdisciplinary and interprofessional lenses. This unique approach offers pertinent coverage of a wider range of graduate attributes than one usually sees, generating multiple perspectives and discourses that have implications for both theory and practice. Through an open and exploratory analysis, this text asks questions such as the following: • Are programmes of study which claim 'postgraduate' attributes providing something further, deeper or enhanced in comparison, or just more of the same? • Should we be developing continuing professional development attributes for our professional learning programmes of study, or are attributes of this nature established at the undergraduate level? • How can we embed graduate attributes in curricula in a wide range of subject discipline-specific and interdisciplinary ways? • In a culture of lifelong learning and a cross-disciplinary changing global market, are attributes simply a starting point – a launch pad for future and ongoing development required for a world of increasing complexity? Clearly structured and offering a mix of case study and theoretical frameworks to explore each GA, practical guidance is offered at the end of each chapter on how to embed the relevant graduate attribute whilst providing well-researched theoretical underpinning. The varied methods applied and methodological attitudes espoused will prove inclusive to a wide range of readers. Bringing together analysis of specific case studies from a wide range of professional and discipline-specific contexts, Graduate Attributes in Higher Education will be a valuable text for educators and professionals focused on curriculum development and professional learning.
