Sample Book Insights: #1 We all love gifts. We love the blessings that beautify our lives. But what happens when a gift becomes more than just a gift. When a want becomes a need, a favor becomes a dependency, and a gift is no longer only a gift. #2 The tragedy of our choice is that we chain our necks with attachments, and then ask why we choke. We put aside our Real air, and then wonder why we can't breathe. We give up our only food, and then complain when we're dying of starvation. #3 The true purpose of the gift is to bring us to God. We will suffer the moment we turn our wants into needs and our one true need into a commodity we think we can do without. #4 The foundation of Islam is tawheed, or Oneness, but tawheed is not just about saying that God is One. It is about the Oneness of purpose, of fear, of worship, and of ultimate love for God. It is about the oneness of vision and focus.

reclaim your heart yasmin mogahed: An American Muslim Guide to the Art and Life of Preaching Sohaib Sultan, 2023-03-07 An American Muslim Guide to the Art and Life of Preaching explores the art and craft of creating effective Islamic sermons and delivering them with care, passion, and integrity. The life of the preacher is also addressed, and a model of spiritual formation is provided for those serving Muslim communities of faith in positions of religious leadership. Sultan's vision and approach to preaching is holistic. This book is as much about the knowledge and care placed behind a sermon as it is about the tone, tenor, and shape of that sermon. It is as much about the character of the person delivering these words as it is about the nature and shape of the words themselves. It is as much about tending to the people of faith that fill the worship space as it is about the aesthetics and arrangement of that same space. This means that this book on preaching is not meant for preachers alone. It was written for us all, whether we are called to address and care for a congregation, or we are one of the many called to be part of one. While the book is clearly written for Muslim preachers and Islamic preaching, many of the insights in the book could easily apply to preaching in Christian or other settings. Reflecting on a theology of the spoken word in the Islamic tradition, Martin Nguyen remarks that the sermon in and of itself is not automatically worthy of praise. Rather, its value for the life of faith is measured by its message, its mode of delivery, and the model of living that accompanies it. An appendix to the book includes a collection of du'ā's, or supplicatory prayers, that were composed and delivered by women from the Princeton Muslim Life Community.

reclaim your heart yasmin mogahed: Faithful Transformations Nurhaizatul Jamil, 2025-07-08 Malay Muslim women in Singapore cultivate piety by attending popular Islamic self-help classes. Nurhaizatul Jamil's ethnographic study offers an interdisciplinary analysis of this phenomenon. The Islamic self-help classes in this book exist at the nexus of sacred texts, aphorisms, and social media engagements, scaffolded by the neoliberal economy that shapes idealized Muslim subjectivities. Within a context whereby the Singapore state discursively frames Malayness in terms of cultural deficiency, Malay Muslim women's inward focus on transformative ethics rather than societal change underscores the appeal of gendered pious self-help discourses. At the same time, Jamil's referencing of Black, Indigenous, and Ethnic studies offers a compelling analytical frame that places affective transformation within the context of racial capitalism, historical trauma, and embodied healing. A provocative and rich ethnography, Faithful Transformations tells the stories of Malay Muslim women desiring piety and self-improvement as minoritized subjects in contemporary Singapore while exploring the limitations of self-care.

We are unable to see that there is also good in this world. We are forgetting to be hopeful, positive, and optimistic. This book demonstrates that the good is more powerful than the evil, no matter how prevalent the latter is. It implores us to never stop hoping, thinking positive, and being optimistic in the face of despair and evil. And it reminds us that religion, science, and our own innate nature testify to the power of hope, positivity, and optimism.

reclaim your heart yasmin mogahed: Enchanted by Eternity William J. Slattery, 2025-01-20 Whether we realize it or not, Catholics have been deeply influenced by modernity's failed worldview. While we want to live and share our faith with joy, we struggle to do so because we unwittingly see the cosmos, the human person, and society as machines functioning independently of their Creator and of one another. If we want to bring the life-transforming effects of our faith into the world, we must first find and live real Catholicism, breaking free of the gravitational pull of modernity's worldview. A worldview is the stable, all-encompassing way in which each of us looks at reality — the pair of glasses through which we see the world around us. It makes up the grid of givens, assumptions, and presuppositions through which we view the world. It colors what we mean by God, universe, and human. Everyone has a worldview, and recognizing our worldview and the worldviews of others is crucial in our search for truth, goodness, and beauty. In Enchanted by Eternity, Fr. William Slattery shows how Catholicism proposes an enchanted and enchanting view of self, nature, society, and the future of each human person, created to live in a resurrected body in the new heavens and the new earth. As this book reveals, rediscovering a truly Catholic worldview will change the way we live — and it might even change the world.

reclaim your heart yasmin mogahed: Why Suffering? Ravi Zacharias, Vince Vitale, 2025-05-01 Why would a loving and powerful God allow so much pain and suffering? In Why Suffering? Ravi Zacharias and Vince Vitale carefully walk you through a variety of responses that considered together provide a clear, comprehensive, and convincing answer. Responses like: Where there is the possibility of love, there has to be the reality of freedom, and therefore the possibility of pain. Wishing God had made a different world is to wish yourself out of existence. The cross is the key to a compelling and rational explanation for trusting in God in the face of suffering. In comparison with other world religions, the Christian response is highly distinctive. The reality of evil only makes sense in light of the reality of divine goodness. Relational knowledge about God takes the argument beyond reason to the presence of God amidst suffering. God's decision to allow temporal suffering is understandable when viewed from an eternal perspective. Divine goodness shows how to conquer not in spite of, but even through suffering. Here is a book written with great respect for the complexity of the issue, recognizing that some who read it will be in the trenches of deep suffering themselves and others questioning the very existence of a loving God. Why Suffering? provides an answer to the problem of pain and suffering with emotional sensitivity and intellectual integrity.

reclaim your heart yasmin mogahed: Breaking Bread Across Cultures: A Table Set for All Nations. Food, Faith, and the Theology of Cultural Diversity and Third Culture Cuisine Vincent Froom, 2024-11-17 A Table Set for All Nations: Food, Faith, and the Theology of Cultural Diversity explores the rich intersection of theology, culture, and cuisine, revealing how food can be a powerful tool for spiritual unity, reconciliation, and community building. In an increasingly globalized world, where migration and cultural exchange have reshaped the way we eat, this book offers a fresh perspective on how third culture cuisine—the blending of ingredients and traditions from different cultures—mirrors God's mission to unite people from all backgrounds into one diverse and harmonious body. Through engaging theological reflections, stories of cross-cultural meals, and the exploration of fusion cuisine, A Table Set for All Nations invites readers to see food as a profound metaphor for the Christian calling to embrace diversity and practice radical hospitality. From the significance of feasting and fasting in the Christian tradition to the role of food in addressing colonial histories and promoting racial reconciliation, this book reveals how the act of sharing meals transcends physical nourishment, becoming a sacred expression of love, justice, and inclusivity. Whether you're a theologian, a food enthusiast, or someone seeking to deepen your understanding of how faith and culture intersect, A Table Set for All Nations offers a compelling vision of how the simple act of sharing food can reflect the richness of God's global mission and the beauty of unity in diversity. Perfect for individual reflection or group study, this book also includes recipes for cultural and theological reflection, further reading suggestions, and discussion questions to help readers explore the deeper meaning of meals in their own communities. Vincent is a theologian, writer, and cultural commentator with a passion for exploring the intersections of faith, culture, and everyday life. With advanced degrees in theology and religious studies, Vincent has spent years researching and reflecting on the ways in which spirituality informs not only personal belief but also the communal aspects of life, including food, culture, and diversity. A sought-after speaker and educator, Vincent is known for their ability to bring complex theological ideas to life through relatable, real-world examples. Their work emphasizes inclusivity, justice, and the beauty of cultural exchange, especially as seen through the lens of food and hospitality. Whether through essays, sermons, or academic writing, Vincent engages with the idea that God's love transcends boundaries—of culture, race, and geography—and is best understood when we gather at the table.

together. In addition to writing, Vincent is active in local community initiatives focused on food justice, sustainability, and intercultural dialogue. Their work and ministry invite people to embrace the richness of culinary diversity as a reflection of God's creative and inclusive nature. When not writing or teaching, Vincent enjoys experimenting with fusion recipes, traveling to explore global culinary traditions, and hosting communal meals that bring people together from all walks of life.
