It was in the 20th century that the field of finance management emerged as its own academic discipline. Its previous use was in the field of economics. Its fundamental breadth as a field of study has evolved throughout the years When it first emerged, financial management's primary focus was on securing capital for companies. However, from a contemporary perspective, it is not only the gathering of money but also their effective use that constitute the fundamental tasks of the financial management. In the modern day, a company's financial issues are analyzed by the financial management department. The term financial management is used to describe the process of overseeing a company's finances. Funding, managing working capital, budgeting for capital expenditures, and planning the organizational capital structure are all part of the finance department's responsibilities.
