Fiestaware identification and price guide is an essential resource for collectors, enthusiasts, and anyone interested in the vibrant world of this iconic ceramic dinnerware. Fiestaware, produced by the Homer Laughlin China Company, has been a staple in American households since its introduction in 1936. With its bold colors, art deco design, and durability, Fiestaware has captured the hearts of many. This guide aims to provide comprehensive information on identifying Fiestaware, understanding its history, and determining its value in the market.

History of Fiestaware

Fiestaware was designed by Frederick Hurten Rhead, who was inspired by traditional Mexican pottery and the Art Deco movement. Initially released in a limited color palette, the line quickly gained popularity due to its affordability and practicality. Here are some key milestones in Fiestaware's history:

1. 1936: Fiestaware is launched, available in five colors: Fiesta Red, Cobalt Blue, Turquoise, Yellow, and Green.
2. 1943: Production halts during World War II due to a shortage of materials.
3. 1959: The introduction of new colors like Chartreuse and the revival of the line after the war.
4. 1973: The original Fiestaware production ends, and the brand becomes less prominent.
5. 1986: The Homer Laughlin China Company reintroduces Fiestaware with new colors and designs.

Identifying Fiestaware

Identifying authentic Fiestaware can be a rewarding aspect of collecting. With its distinctive features, collectors can easily distinguish genuine pieces from reproductions. Here are some key identifying traits:

Color and Glaze

Fiestaware is known for its vibrant, glossy colors. The original colors include:

- Fiesta Red

- Cobalt Blue
- Turquoise
- Yellow
- Green

Later colors added to the palette include:

- Chartreuse
- Pink
- Lavender
- Paprika
- Light Blue

Look for a smooth, glossy glaze that is uniform across the piece. The colors should be bright and consistent, without any dullness or fading.

Shape and Design

Fiestaware has a distinctive shape, characterized by:

- A bold, modern design with a sleek, rounded form.
- Functional pieces like plates, bowls, mugs, and serving dishes.
- Stacking capabilities, which allow for easy storage.

Backstamps and Markings

The backstamp on Fiestaware pieces can help determine the age and authenticity. Here are some notable backstamps:

1. 1936-1943: "Fiesta" with the word "Homer Laughlin" below it.
2. 1944-1973: "Fiesta" in a stylized font or with the words "Homer Laughlin" in a circle.
3. 1986-present: A new logo with "Fiesta" and "HLC" (Homer Laughlin China) or "Made in USA."

Check the back of the piece for these stamps, which can indicate the period it was made.
