I-130 Affidavit Sample: The I-130 Affidavit is a crucial document in the immigration process for U.S. citizens and permanent residents who wish to sponsor their relatives for a green card. The I-130 petition is a formal request to establish the existence of a qualifying relationship between the sponsor and the beneficiary. While the I-130 form itself is essential, the affidavit accompanying it can provide additional context and support for the application. This article will delve into the specifics of the I-130 affidavit, including its purpose, structure, and a sample template to guide applicants.

Understanding the I-130 Affidavit

The I-130 affidavit serves as a statement of support, affirming the relationship between the sponsor and the beneficiary. It is usually written by individuals who can vouch for the authenticity of the relationship, such as friends, family members, or colleagues. The affidavit does not replace the I-130 form but complements it by providing personal insights and additional evidence of the relationship.

Purpose of the I-130 Affidavit

The primary purposes of the I-130 affidavit include:

1. Verification of Relationship: The affidavit can help prove the legitimacy of the relationship between the sponsor and the beneficiary, particularly in cases where there may be doubts about the authenticity of the relationship.
2. Personal Testimony: It provides a personal account and testimony regarding the relationship, which can help immigration officials understand the depth and nature of the connection.
3. Support for the I-130 Petition: A well-articulated affidavit can strengthen the overall application by providing additional context that may not be evident through official documents alone.

Who Can Write an I-130 Affidavit?

The following individuals are typically eligible to write an affidavit for an I-130 petition:

- Family Members: Siblings, parents, or other relatives who can attest to the relationship.
- Friends: Close friends who have witnessed the relationship can provide valuable insights.
- Colleagues or Neighbors: Individuals who have known the couple for an extended period and can speak to their relationship dynamics.

- Community Leaders: Leaders within religious or community organizations can lend credibility to the affidavit, especially if they have observed the couple together.

Structure of an I-130 Affidavit

An I-130 affidavit should be clear, concise, and well-organized. Below is a typical structure to follow:

1. Introduction

- State the affiant's full name and address.
