music appreciation final exam: The Running Life Steven McCann, 2021-09-09 Running is a part of our consciousness and subconsciousness all through life. We run as children chasing kites and ice-cream trucks, and run away from irate parents. We run as teenagers in our sports. We run as adults to stay in shape, and as elderly people, we run after toddlers that suddenly escape our protection. We run in nightmares. We run in happy dreams for the exuberance of pure freedom. We run to catch subways, buses and planes. We run to meet our lovers. Our clocks run fast, or slow, and we run late, or early. My running stories capture some of the ways we run. A kindergartener chases his mother for an entire mile, so he can walk her to the grocery store. A high school track athlete runs to win the heart of a classmate. A college coed wakes up late for her final exam and runs frantically across campus to preserve her grade point. Another young woman runs to escape a rapist. An elderly man watches joggers sweep by on a country road from his seat in a wheelchair, holding in his heart all the wonderful miles he once ran himself.

lessons learned on his way from the Jim Crow South to a top spot on Capitol Hill . . . [a] remarkably candid new memoir” —NPR From his humble beginnings in Sumter, South Carolina, to his prominence on the Washington, D.C., political scene as the third highest-ranking Democrat in the House of Representatives, US Congressman James E. Clyburn has led an extraordinary life. In Blessed Experiences, Clyburn tells in his own inspirational words how an African American boy from the Jim Crow-era South was able to beat the odds to achieve great success and become, as President Barack Obama describes him, “one of a handful of people who, when they speak, the entire Congress listens.” Born in 1940 to a civic-minded beautician and a fundamentalist minister, Clyburn began his ascent to leadership at the age of twelve, when he was elected president of his National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) youth chapter. He broke barriers through peaceful protests and steadfast beliefs in equality and justice. As a civil rights leader at South Carolina State College, as human affairs commissioner under John C. West and three subsequent governors, and as South Carolina’s first African American congressman since 1897, Clyburn has established a long and impressive record of public leadership and advocacy for human rights, education, historic preservation, and economic development. Includes a foreword from Emmy Award-winning actress and the congressman’s longtime friend Alfre Woodard “Blessed Experiences has captured not just the history of this tireless leader’s more-than-four decades in public service, but also a sense of the times.” —Warren Buffett music appreciation final exam: Choices and Wheels Carolyn J. Newcombe, 2022-07-22 Page | 2 The two words choices and wheels have great meaning for the author. So many people in our society do not realize the myriad of choices with the selection of food, clothes, places to live in, type of entertainments. The list could go on. There are a number of people, including people with disabilities, who lack choices in their daily lives. Carolyn Newcombe tells of her every day, as well as extraordinary encounters concerning choices individuals make, including her own. Making choices is a gift God gives us, and He wants us to choose daily, if not hourly. In Joshua 24:15, there is an account of a physical and a spiritual battle taking place. “But if serving the LORD seems undesirable to you, then choose for yourselves this day whom you will serve, whether the gods your ancestors served beyond the Euphrates, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land you are living. But as for me and my household, we will serve the LORD.” All of us encounter battles in our lives. Through growing closer to Jesus, we can find that the best way to live life is to serve him. That is a choice worth making. Carolyn Newcombe has lived her life on wheels. Without wheels, she, and millions of people who use wheelchairs, would not have any form of mobility. Life lived from a wheelchair gives unique perspectives and opportunities to build relationships and influence individuals. Walk through the life changes of Carolyn Newcombe as she experiences a variety of different worlds, from family life to institutionalization, then to establishing and then working for a disability rights organization and also running a boarding house. Watch her grow in her journey of faith. Your eyes will be opened, and your heart will be enriched when you read Choices and Wheels.
